

No Tax On Insurance.COM.AU

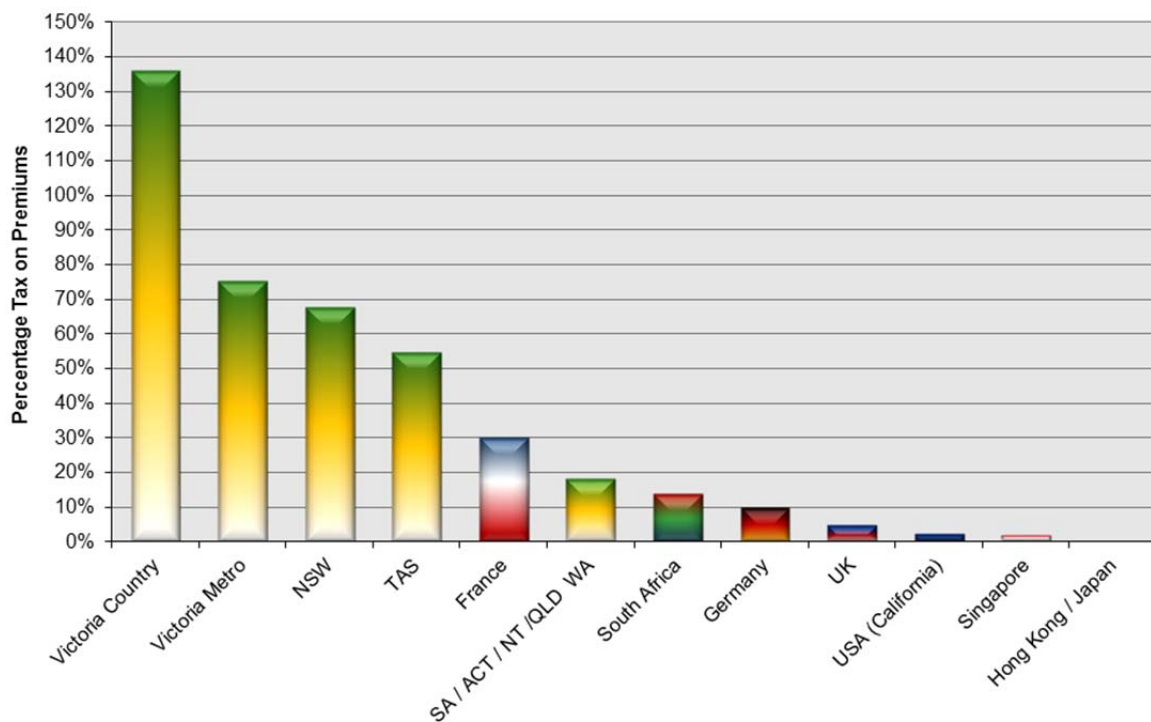

We at [Insert adviser's name here] are concerned at the high level of taxation on insurance in Australia. The level of taxation on insurance in this country is, in fact, by far and away the highest in world.

Did you know, California has the highest incidence of fire in the world, yet policyholders only pay 2.4% taxation on their insurance? In some parts of Australia, you can pay 140% taxation, with over 20% being tax on tax.

Insurance is not only vital to protect Australian businesses and the home and contents of Australian families, it is imperative to the ongoing growth of our economy.

To learn just how much taxation we are all paying, we encourage you to logon to www.notaxoninsurance.com.au. If, after learning the facts, you would like to support the push to reduce the high level of taxation on insurance, an electronic petition is available for you to sign.
